GENERATION CITIZEN: THE POWER OF YOUTH CIVIC ENGAGEMENT

NOVEMBER 23rd 2:30 PM

Hartford Public Library

500 Main St. Hartford

RSVP: <https://bit.ly/2ocuGnv>

Free and open to the public.

Mr. Warren will address how youth civic leadership has evolved, what youth civic leadership could look like and what kinds of leadership building and engagement opportunities and models we need to create to bring about the next generation of diverse young civic leaders.

SCOTT WARREN

Chief Executive Officer - Generation Citizen

Mr. Warren co-founded the organization at Brown University with fellow student Anna Ninan during their senior year, working with students in the local Providence community. From that starting point in 2008, Scott has grown Generation Citizen to become one of the preeminent civics education organizations in the country, promoting Action Civics across diverse geographies through best-in-class programming and concrete policy change. Scott has served as a Social Entrepreneur in Residence at Brown University and Tufts University. Scott was named an Echoing Green Fellow in 2010, and a Draper Richards Kaplan Fellow in 2012. He continues to write on subjects ranging youth political engagement to African politics to sports, and has been published and featured in the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, the Christian Science Monitor, Education Week, the New York Daily News, Huffington Post, San Diego Union Tribune, Sports Illustrated, Philadelphia Inquirer, and the Providence Journal. His new book, Generation Citizen: The Power of Youth in Our Politics, was published in 2019.
